SENATOR NIXON VICTIM OF INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT

THE CONGRESS IS YOUR WEAPON OVERWHELMING POWERS OF CONGRESS CITED

By Merwin K. Hart,
President, National Economic Council
From Council Letter No. 294

For six months the American people have heard of little in politics except the contest for the Presidency.

Both major parties have nominated candidates. From their various utterances to date, and from the two long-winded, generally vague party platforms, it is a fair inference that it does not make much difference to the American people which candidate is elected November 4th. In either event the trend is likely to be toward more intervention by the state and more Socialism. Eventually this will lead to some form of Communism. Socialism cannot be made to work without coercion. And Communism is only Socialism plus coercion.

Assuming all this to be true, are the American people without recourse? Have they no other agency by which their liberties may be restored?

Fortunately they have a very great agency in the Congress of the United States—as long as they keep it.

The provisions of Article I of the Constitution, which Article fills as much space as all the rest of the Articles of the Constitution proper put together, give the Congress VERY GREAT POWERS—powers greater than those either of the Executive or the Judiciary.

This is not surprising, for the American Revolution was a revolt against executive authority. So it was provided that the American people could look to their elected representatives in Congress, even more than to the Executive, for the safeguarding of their liberties.

An examination of the Constitution reveals that there is no single thing that the President can tell the Congress that it MUST do; whereas it is the DUTY of the President to "take care that the laws (passed by the Congress) be faithfully executed." In many ways he is the agent of the Congress.

The Separation Of Powers

Under the doctrine of separation of powers, one of the two principal bases of the American form of government, each branch. Legislative, Executive and Judicial, operates as a check on the other two. If the Congress passes a law which the President for any reason dislikes, he may veto

Reds-New Dealers ADL-B'nai B'rith Converge On Senator Nixon.

N. Y. POST (DOROTHY SCHIFF) AND J. WECHSLER, EX-OFFICIAL OF "YOUNG COMMUNIST LEAGUE" LAUNCH RED PURGE OF SENATOR NIXON

The Anti Defamation League, which is part of the B'nai B'rith (the Invisible Government) and boasts of more than two thousand paid investigators (snoopers) have unusual interest in matters of nominations and elections. Murray Chotiner, an A.D.L. agent and Manager for Richard Nixon arranged to have Nixon nominated as Vice President. Nixon, being a young ous ailment and the possibility that if elected, Nixon may later develop as President and open war on Communism, the Invisible Government became alarmed and launched an attack to have Nixon removed. The New York Post, owned by Dorothy Schiff, led this attack. The editorial was written by Dorothy Schiff who is the granddaughter-

Dorothy Schiff, publisher of the New York Post, New York's leading Marxist Hate Sheet, whose grandfather, Jacob Schiff, advanced $48,000,000 in 1917 to finance the Russian Revolution. Official Government documents (including the Senate Overman report, and the Sisson Report to Woodrow Wilson) definitely establish the Warburg Banking Firm, of which the Schiffs are members, as the financiers of the 1917 Red Russian Revolution.

man, they felt they would be able to direct him and hold him in line so that he would not vigorously expose the New Deal operations. But something went wrong and they found they could not control Nixon as they expected and he continued to blast Communism and the New Deal in his speeches. In view of reports from reliable sources that Gen. Eisenhower had a seri-

Senator Richard Nixon, fighting Anti-Communist crusader, whose forthright honesty and courage made him victor over Red smearers.

ter of Jacob Schiff, the strong financial power behind the Jews who launched the Communist revolution in Russia in 1917. (Readers who would like evidence of the fact that Jacob Schiff, President of Kuhn, Loeb & Company, Jewish Bankers, was the power behind the Communist revolution may obtain this information by writing COMMON SENSE and asking for photostatic copy of article in the New York Times of 1917). The editor of the New York Post is James Wechsler. Walter Winchell devoted a column and a half to Wechsler's Communist record, to quote a few lines: "After the revelations here on

NIXON VICTIM

Monday morning that the editor of the N. Y. Post (J. Wechsler) was an official of The Young Communist League (several comrades of which finally landed in our Federal prisons, after being convicted of Conspiracy to Overthrow the United States Government) various representatives of war vet groups tried to see him." Dorothy Schiff, owner, and James Wechsler, editor, (both Jews) of the New York Post, which is read almost exclusively by Jews, gave the signal and the Marxist Jews of the United States immediately took up this campaign to destroy Richard Nixon. Jewish writers and radio commentators took up this assault against Nixon and then kept in the background.

Was it an Accident?

Was it an accident this smear was started? Did some misguided patriot open this attack on Richard Nixon? The few days remaining before this important election represents valuable time and important subjects should be brought into the open and discussed, for instance, what group was really responsible for pushing us into World War II which was so disastrous to the whole world and mainly responsible for the present state of fear and uncertainty in our country today. If the public does not understand how we became embroiled in World War II, if they do not understand how or why we are now in a phoney war in Korea, unless we understand how these things have happened and who is responsible, how are we to prevent being pushed into an even worse catastrophe in the near future? What better time would there be to discuss this than when we are trying to decide which candidate would make the worst president?

Invisible Government

The Invisible Government is busy day and night maneuvering and conditioning us for the most terrible chaos ever witnessed for the express purpose of enslaving us to the ruthless minority group which operates the Invisible Government. This group which is steadily planning to enslave the world through wars, bankruptcy and regimentation, are very much concerned that the public does not learn of their past activities and prevent the completion of the plan. The Invisible Government has a working agreement with the Rockefeller International Group, using the Institute of Pacific Relations and the Council on Foreign Relations through such stooges as Owen Lattimore, John Carter Vincent, Gen. George Marshall and Dean Acheson to cause the Pacific countries to fall to Communism. Through the use of the State Department and Truman, the Invisible Government was able to remove all important obstacles to its plan except General MacArthur, hence they demanded he be fired.

As the time for the Chicago Convention approached, every effort was made by the Invisible Government and the Rockefeller Internationalists to prevent MacArthur from being nominated on the Republican ticket, as it was generally known he would not be dictated to and could be depended on to expose the operations of the Marxist New Deal. As the campaign for the nomination proceeded, it was evident that most of Senator Taft's followers expected he would throw his support to MacArthur at the proper time. Then started a most ruthless campaign against Taft with stooges such as "Me-Too" Dewey using every possible method to destroy the Taft and MacArthur forces. If Eisenhower could be placed as the nominee against the New Deal candidate, the Invisible Government would be safe either way, for Eisenhower would follow orders. They knew when he was ordered not to dig up the criminal program of the New Deal for twenty odd years, Eisenhower would obey as he obeyed their disgraceful orders during World War II. Taft's Marxist advisors prevented him from throwing his support to Gen. MacArthur the day before the balloting. By skullduggery and ruthless steam-roller methods, Eisenhower was placed as the nominee.

Post Smears All Patriots

For those who are not familiar with the tactics of the red New York Post, it will be interesting to know that among the many smears launched on patriotic anti-communists, the following are but a few: a series of eight articles on Sen. McCarthy, a full page on Ben Freedman who's patriotism cannot be excelled by any living man, a series of seven articles on Vivien Kellems, a series of nine articles on COMMON SENSE, smears against such patriots as Gen. MacArthur, Senator McCarran, Senator Jenner. This red New York Post also viciously opposes the Un-American Activities Committee, the McCarran-Walters Immigration Act and any movement to outlaw Communism. It defends such traitors as Alger Hiss and Dean Acheson, and devotes space to promoting snoopers for the A. D. L. such as Gordon Hall, a panty-waist lace-cuffed ladies man.

The New York Post supported Communist Marcantonio and red Henry Wallace.

The Post supported Eisenhower in the primary election to assure that the New Deal would be opposed only by a shadow boxer. Now that the nominations have been made, the Marxist New York Post supports Adlai Stevenson, Alger Hiss' pal, so that Communism can continue to thrive in our government. Ike is being used to elect Stevenson just as Dewey and Wilkie were used to help elect the arch-traitor of all times, F.D.R.

Nixon's Broadcast

Senator Nixon's broadcast on television and radio brought a tremendous response in the form of hundreds of thousands of letters and telegrams demanding that the Republican National Committee retain him as Vice Presidential candidate. However, there is much evidence to support the belief that Eisenhower, under pressure from the Marxist group, was on the verge of dumping Nixon when the effects of the Broadcast caused their plans to boomerang. There were such remarks by Ike as "Nixon will have to come clean." The invisible Government and the World Government crowd are happy to see the principals engaged in shadow boxing over small issues such as these funds and Stevenson's jokes instead of discussing foreign policies, causes for war, and the likelihood of a new war. Time goes on and November 4th people will vote not knowing how either candidate stands on the important issues before the country. Neither candidate has the courage to say he favors outlawing Communism, or will fire Anna Rosenberg and Dean Acheson. Advisers and speech writers for Stevenson who have been mentioned in the press are: Herbert Lehman, Jacob Arvey, Davis Niles (Nihlus), Sam Rosenman, David Dubinsky, Lee Pressman, Arthur Goldberg, (General Council C.I.O.) Arthur M. Schlesinger, Benjamin Cohen, James Wechsler, Ben Sonnenberg, Nathan Straus, Henry Morgenthau. These are all Jews, but anyone who says the Jews are masterminding Stevenson's campaign is a bigot, a hate-monger, a Nazi or an anti-semiter.

...AND HELP SAVE OUR REPUBLIC

A NEGRO SPEAKS

Republished from Nashville Banner,
By J. T. Bellanfant, Columbia, Tenn.

"The more I travel, listen and observe, the more convinced I become that the Negro has been misled in this matter of integration and civil rights. It appears to me that the first thing should come first, and that our economic well-being is of a greater significance than the privilege or right to attend a white school or to associate with the white people on an equal social basis provided by Supreme Court decision and pressure legislation.

"As a Negro and an American, I naturally want to see my race enjoy every right, privilege and opportunity enjoyed by any other American, but I am opposed to any type of agitation designed to deprive the other fellow of a right to be associated with his own kind exclusively, if he so desires. I would like to reserve such a right for myself and definitely would not want it encroached upon by Supreme Court edict or any other kind of interference.

"The right granted to one or two Negroes in Virginia or some other Southern State to enter a state graduate school is of no benefit to the millions of our people who are in need of the bare necessities of life, and when the fortunately situated members of the race conduct such campaigns of agitation for selfish gain, the needy masses suffer . . .

"I was in Atlanta and was greatly impressed by the large number of outstanding and progressive Negro businesses. Atlanta is strictly a segregated city. I was in several New England cities where there is not supposed to be any segregation, and I found not one creditable Negro business. The only owned and operated Negro radio station is not in New York, but in Atlanta, Ga., and Memphis, Tenn. Segregation has not only given the Negro in the South an opportunity to carve out his industrial and economic destiny, but it has forced him to the fore as the most substantial and economically secure Negro in the world today.

"The Negro in New York, Newark and other supposedly liberal centers may enjoy the privilege to eat where he may please or go to any theater or public place of amusement, but a Negro can't get a license in Newark to operate a liquor store and there are any number of fields that he can't enter business in other Eastern and Northern cities. But this isn't true in the

THE CONGRESS IS YOUR WEAPON

it. The Supreme Court may declare a law invalid, if in its opinion it conflicts with the Constitution; but if the Judiciary renders a decision with which Congress does not agree, Congress can initiate an amendment to the Constitution. If the President vetoes a bill, the Congress may repass the bill over his veto. Thereafter the President, if he respects his oath of office, cannot elect, as Mr. Truman has done, which laws he will enforce and which laws he will ignore.

These checks and balances, as they are called, worked well during the first 143 years of our history, probably for the reason that the American people were their own rulers and each branch of the government had a genuine respect for the other two. Except for a few sporadic cases, such as those of Citizen Genet and the Emperor Maximilian, no alien influence was at work.

It was only when the United States yielded to the temptation to meddle in the affairs of other nations commencing in 1917, that the alien influence got its real start. And this more or less secret, furtive and sinister influence has been at work ever since. It dominated both national conventions of 1952.

The Overwhelming Powers of the Congress

Here is why we say the Congress is, in important respects, the most powerful of the three branches.

1. If the President vetoes a bill, the Congress by a two-thirds vote may repass it over his veto. In the past 20 years this has happened on a number of occasions, as in the Taft-Hartley Act of 1947 and the McCarran-Walters Immigration Act of 1952.

2. The Congress may refuse to pass legislation recommended by the President. This also has happened on many occasions and with respect to important measures recommended by the Executive, as with the Brannan Plan to socialize agriculture, the various schemes for Federal Aid to Education, and the Ewing Plan for socialized medicine.

3. The Congress has the power to modify or repeal legislation, a power often exercised. Down to twenty years ago, it was expected that legislation would be drafted by the Congress itself. But F. D. Roosevelt seized the initiative in 1933 and by the aid of his hand-picked advisers, drafted legislation and handed it to the Congress as though he were the master and the Congress the servant. Since many of the President's advisers were Leftists, many of the bills passed by the Congress were found later to contain language not understood and not explained at the time, but which conveyed far greater powers than the Congress ever intended. One bill sent to Congress by the President in the famous "hundred days" in the spring and summer of 1933 was passed by both Houses, though it had not even been read by more than a very few Members.

4. The Congress has the power to impeach the President or any of his important officials. The House may, by majority vote, pass an impeachment resolution. And the person impeached may be convicted by the Senate by vote of two-thirds of the MEMBERS PRESENT. Thus, if a bare quorum (namely, 49 Senators) is present, the affirmative vote of 33 can convict and remove the President from office.

5. The Congress has the sole power to appropriate money and to levy taxes.

6. The Congress has the sole power to declare war. This power was usurped by President Truman in his action in Korea in June of 1950. But the power remains in the hands of the Congress if it will only exercise it.

7. Lastly the Congress, alone among the three branches of government, can initiate amendments to the Constitution.

Powers of the Senate

The Senate itself has certain extraordinary powers, which, like the seven listed above, greatly restrict the power of the Chief Executive:

1. The Senate may confirm or reject an appointment to public office.

2. The Senate may ratify or reject, or may attach reservations to, any treaty which the President has negotiated with one or more foreign countries. And in order to ratify, the vote of TWO-THIRDS OF THE MEMBERS PRESENT is required.

Usurpation of Powers By the Executive

As long as the separation of powers was observed by the Executive and the Judiciary, the Government of the United States ran fairly well.

Trouble arose when the President in 1933 began usurping the powers of the Congress. Aided and abetted by left-wing propaganda through newspapers, magazines, and books, and through radio, education and the churches, the destruction of American liberties got under way. That destruction has already advanced very far. Yet it need not go on further. And the liberties lost can be regained. The Congress can accomplish this, IF ONLY THE PEOPLE WILL SELECT A CONGRESS TO DO THEIR BIDDING, AND THEN WILL STAND BEHIND THE CONGRESS.

The very essence of the Constitution is that the people are supreme. The Congress, without the participation of the people back home, is well-nigh helpless. Section 1 of Article I says that "All legislative powers HEREIN GRANTED shall be vested in a Congress. . . ." (Capitals ours.) Article 10 of the Bill of Rights says clearly that "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or TO THE PEOPLE." (Capitals ours.)

The people can exercise their power—at the polls. BUT THEY HAVE TO ACT IN TIME.

Leftists Seek to Belittle Congress

It has long been a prime policy of Socialists and Communists to distract attention from congressional elections. That is why all the Left-wing talk in recent months has been about the Presidency.

Clearly, the important thing now for those Americans who wish to recover their lost liberties, is TO FASTEN THEIR ATTENTION ON THE ELECTION OF THE CONGRESS. Several Left-wing organizations, amply supplied with money, are going all out to elect or defeat this or that Congressman or senator, or whole groups of them. Such organizations are today seeking to defeat stalwart Americans in several crucial States. They may succeed unless citizens come to their aid.

Most Members of Congress have the will to do what is right and to restore the liberties of the American people. But they have not had the organized support of their constituents to the extent they are entitled, and to the extent that the citizens' own vital interests require.

If an individual possessing property were to select some person to manage it for him, would he then forget about it—pay no attention to what the hired manager might do?

Yet that is precisely what most Americans have done with respect to their government. The vast majority of people, engrossed in their own lives, have left the management and direction of the structure of their government to hired hands, and are largely ignoring what their hired hands are doing.

Meanwhile these latter, the law-making body under the pressure of a power-hungry Executive, have been wasting the property—dissipating it in foolish ways, even spending it in such a way as to build up a Frankenstein that threatens to destroy both the property and the liberty of its owners.

Congressmen Elected by Small Margin

In 1950, about 100 Members of the Lower House were elected by majorities of ten per cent or less of the total vote. This means that the opponents of these 100 were defeated by only that margin. Clearly a little extra effort by citizens in opposition to those present Members who are essentially Left-wingers, would have resulted in their defeat; and a little more organized support for those conservative candidates who were defeated, would have resulted in their election.

Left-wingers understand all this. Most conservatives don't. Or, if they do, they have done little about it.

Party government has to a large extent fallen down. During the past two years in Congress many Southern Democrats and Northern Republicans through coalition have defeated or passed a pending piece of legislation. In certain of the larger cities are Members who pass as Republicans but whose voting record clearly shows they are Left-wingers.

Therefore the party label is not always a true one.

Both party platforms can well be thrown out the window. They are, and are intended to be, vague, general and so verbose as to conceal their real meaning, if there is any.

Some Vital Questions

There the six or eight questions that ARE of vital importance to the American people. These are set forth in the following statements:

1. Foreign Policy.

The Congress should see to it that in foreign policy America's vital interests shall always come first. Subject to this reservation, America should render what assistance she reasonably can to other anti-Communist nations that are willing to help themselves. All present foreign policy should be reviewed with the object of conforming it to the principle of AMERICA FIRST.

A constitutional amendment should be adopted that will provide in substance that neither the U.N. Charter, nor any other treaty to which the United States is or may hereafter become a party, shall be deemed to abrogate or reduce the rights of American citizens, as guaranteed by the Constitution, nor shall they impair the sovereignty of the United States.

The United Nations is clearly the spearhead of international Socialism. It should be trimmed down to the size of an international debating forum, where it could serve a useful purpose. The continued fanatical support of U.N. will destroy the American Republic. American independence should at all costs be maintained.

2. Defense.

America should put herself in position to defend herself under all circumstances; and this task should take precedence over all other Federal activities.

3. The Right to Work.

The Congress should take action to protect every American in his right to work or to quit working, whether a member of any organization or not. Where state or local government officials do not protect their citizens, they should be supplanted. Industry-wide bargaining should be made unlawful. Mass picketing should be forbidden, and the laws against violence and intimidation should be enforced by the police power of honest government.

4. Spending and Taxation.

All unnecessary government spending should be cut out. All projects that are not immediately necessary should be postponed or eliminated. The national debt and taxes should be reduced. Such a policy would assure continued national solvency, revive individual incentive in private enterprise, and thus maintain an abundance of risk capital.

5. "Civil Rights."

No man has greater opportunity anywhere for self improvement and advancement than in America. The current ballyhoo for so-called "civil rights" stirs up hatred and bigotry where none existed before,

SEN. INTERNAL SECURITY SUBCOMMITTEE RELEASE

By Senator Pat McCarran, Chairman

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24, 1952. — Senator Pat McCarran (D.Nev.) today declared that communism had fastened itself like a leech on the careers of prominent figures in the entertainment world.

He counseled the nation's entertainers and the entertainment industry to take careful inventory of their affiliations.

"These people," said McCarran, "plead that most of the suspect activities in which they were engaged seemed to have 'laudable' objectives, but they admit they did not investigate the true purposes. Such persons—and the industry they represent—must be everlastingly on guard if they are honest in their professed desire to be loyal and upright, for they are public figures who become the idols of great masses of people and their lives must be exemplary and trustworthy."

Senator McCarran, who is presently in Reno, issued the statement through his office here.

Releasing the second volume of testimony on subversive influences in radio and television before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee of which he is the chairman, Senator McCarran drew attention to the striking number of Communist-controlled organizations and Communist-sponsored activities in which some of the witnesses have involved themselves.

The inquiry is being conducted under the direction of Senators McCarran; James O. Eastland, Chairman; and Arthur V. Watkins.

"We do not want to accuse anyone of 'guilt by association,'" McCarran said, "but it is a dangerous type of thinking that leads people into such involvements. It is not the sort of thinking that should be permitted to express itself freely in such important media as radio, television, and other types of entertainment directed at the minds of our people."

Senator McCarran said that it is obvious that the Communists provided an opportunity for beginners in the entertainment field to gain experience, perfect their specialties and sometimes make a little money to help them along.

"But," he declared, "Communism fastens itself like a leech on persons whom it touches. The evidence is that the opportunity to associate with Communist enterprises occurs time and again until the performer or writer or director is sufficiently involved to be used for subversive purposes as a participant with Communist leaders in attacks on the Government, on Congress, on the courts and even on industry."

Senator McCarran illustrated this point

by reference to the testimony of Judy Holiday that among her many activities in aid of Communist enterprises, she had allowed herself to be photographed in a picket line which is described as Communist sponsored; that she joined the Communists in condemning the police for the Communist-promoted riots following the appearance of Paul Robeson in Peekskill, New York; that she protested, in telegrams, the indictment of the so-called Hollywood Ten for refusal to answer questions of a Congressional committee, and that she aided the phony Communist peace movement.

He referred also to the fight of Philip Loeb against the Labor Management Relations Act requirement that union officers sign a non-Communist oath as a prerequisite to the designation of Actors Equity as bargaining agent; his published protest against the revocation of the charter of the Queens College (Long Island) chapter of American Youth for Democracy, a Communist front; his signature on a letter objecting to procedure of the House Un-American Activities Committee, and the use of his name on a telegram criticizing the Attorney General for prosecuting the eleven Communist leaders.

Senator McCarran also observed that the testimony of other witnesses showed at least a regrettable carelessness in contributing their talents and their names to Communist programs, if not an active and conscious participation in Communist-activated projects.

"One of the witnesses," Senator McCarran said, "referred to my publicly-expressed views of communism in 1939 with the statement that I then said, 'people are too much excited about Communist activities'."

"At best, that is a very broad paraphrase. I argued then, and I am of the same opinion still, that the theater must not be condemned, nor can the various classes of entertainers be condemned merely because some among them are Communists or Communist sympathizers."

"I also said in that same debate: 'I wish more of communism could be brought into the open, so that the boys of America might learn to despise the thing from the cradle up. If we could only bring it out or forget our fear of it and damn it and crush it, it would go out of existence...'"

"That is my objective now as it was then and I hope the loyal people in the entertainment field and the industry itself will give our committee their full support and crush the leech."

THE CONGRESS IS YOUR WEAPON

and serves only the cause of Communism. The Christian doctrine of good will toward men, voluntarily applied, will do more to avoid class and race and religious feeling than all the laws that could be passed.

6. Communism.

The policy of the government toward Communism should be radically stepped up. The Communist party should be outlawed. Every Communist sympathizer should be cleaned out of public office. Undoubtedly espionage and potential sabotage are well-nigh everywhere. If Congress has the will, Communist activities in the United States can be suppressed. If a fraction of the energy now exerted by the Administration to further Socialism were directed to eliminate Communism, Communism would be eliminated. IF WE CAN'T SUPPRESS COMMUNISM IN OUR OWN COUNTRY, HOW CAN WE EXPECT EVER TO "CONTAIN" IT ELSEWHERE?

What Can Be Done?

In any district where the sitting Member was elected in 1950 by, say, not over ten per cent of the total vote, that seat is a doubtful one. The great mass of the intelligent American people don't care so much what the attitude of the Congressman is on lesser matters. BUT THEY ARE INTERESTED IN KNOWING THE VIEWS OF CANDIDATES ON THE MATTERS LISTED ABOVE.

Consequently it is apparent that a number of citizens in any congressional district or any state could present to the candidates of both parties for Congress a brief program based on the above statements. If the nominee of one party agreed to endorse them, and that of the other declined, they could organize to support the one who endorsed—regardless of the party to which he belonged.

This is the practical way to counteract the capture of the national party machinery of both political parties by the same internationalist group. It is the only way out.
